FIRE TAKES TO' L OF LIVES IN THE SOUTH

VOLUNTEERS BURNED TO DEATH IN BATTLE WITH FLAMES

VERDUGO HILLS SWEPT HEAVY PROPERTY LOSS

Thousands Join Ranks of Fighters in Combating Holocaust that Menaced Palatial Residence District.—Two L. A. Fires.

Los Angeles.—At least four men lost their lives in the holocaust that swept through Verdugo Hills.

Rangers under Supervisor Charlton expressed the opinion that others had been trapped and it probably will be days before the complete death toll will be known.

The bodies recovered were burned almost beyond recognition. One of the bodies in Sycamore canyon was thought to be that of Clarence Edwards, 34, plumbing inspector of Glendale. He had been missing from the home of his mother, Mrs. John Edwards, Glendale, since early Saturday morning.

He was last seen in the fire area fighting the flames. The body believed to be that of Edwards was found at the point where he was last seen. At the time the flames were reported to have been sweeping upon him from all sides and his escape appeared impossible.

Another of the bodies was thought to be that of Joseph McGahan, who resided in Sycamore canyon. His automobile was found only a short distance from the body.

The flames, which had been virtually smothered Saturday night by the thousands of fire fighters, broke out with renewed energy about 3 o'clock Sunday morning when a light breeze stirred the smouldering embers in the great tracts of brush that had been devoured.

Overwhelming the efforts of fire fighters to check its spread, the blaze roared down the hillside and swept into the most exclusive Eagle Rock residential section on Hill Drive, approaching within ten feet of the palatial estates at Hill Drive and Ellis avenue, before volunteers could beat it back.

Los Angeles.—Two men lost their lives when the entire block surrounding the Ganahl Lumber Yards at Vernon was destroyed by fire, which caused a loss estimated at nearly $1,000,000. This is in the heart of the local industrial district. Within a few minutes after the blaze was discovered in the lumber plant, the Pacific Coast Bottling Works was destroyed by fire.

PAIR CONFESS TO MURDERING SAN BRUNO POLICE CHIEF

Los Angeles.—Floyd Hall, alias Harvey, aged 21 years, and Joseph Tanko, alias Murphy, aged 22 years, arrested here as vagrants, confessed to the murder of Chief of Police Arthur G. Meehan of San Bruno, and to more than a score of robberies in the peninsula district. Chief Meehan was slain September 18. Information was later received by the authorities, who acted on the statement from a relative of Tanko, and the arrest of the youths in Los Angeles followed.

Frank Tanko, also known as Lane, informed the police when arrested in a lodging house in South San Francisco, that his brohter-in-law, Joseph Tanko, had previously admitted that he and Hall shot the police chief.

REDWOOD MAN IS BEATEN TO DEATH BY HIS NEPHEW

Redwood City.—James Doolittle, 65 retired hotelman of San Francisco and San Mateo, was clubbed and shot to death at his home here by his nephew, James Moore. Mrs. Doolittle and the son James were bound and locked in separate rooms for more than two hours before the son finally worked his bonds loose and gave the alarm. Police think Moore intended to murder the prisoners.

Officers surprised Moore as he was ransacking the house and after firing a fusillade at them he shot himself in the head. He died two days later.

Pioneer Vigilante Passes

San Francisco.—Wiliam H. Ryan, pioneer San Franciscan and member of the famous Vigilante Committee of 1851, died in Arroyo Grande, San Luis Obispo county. Mr. Ryan was 92 years old. He arrived in San Francisco after sailing around the Horn, on the Ark, in April, 1850. He was active in the organization of the first volunteer fire department and engaged in fighting the fire of May and June, 1851.

State Capital Letter

The state reclamation board has turned over securities amounting to $1,000,000 to the Sutter Basin Company in partial payment of levees built by private corporation and taken over by the state a few years ago in connection with the Sutter by-pass project. This payment is for portions of the west levee of the Sutter by-pass and the south levee of the Tisdale by-pass. Because it was the largest single payment ever made by the reclamation board, the transaction was epochal. The claims for settlement were filed by the company about a year ago, but the state controller delayed the transfer of the warrants because of certain legal questions which must needs be cleared up. A decision was given last week.

During the last five years the state board of medical examiners has registered a total of 2,649 physicians and surgeons, and in that period an unusually large number of doctors holding degrees from universities in the countries of southern Europe and Russia have applied to the board for licenses to practice in California. The records of the board also show that graduates from medical schools in the eastern and middle western states are coming to California in large numbers, although the percentage in this respect is not out of proportion to the general population increase of the state.

The Plumas county supervisors have ordered withdrawn the injunction proceedings instituted several weeks ago against the state highway commission to force an allotment of funds for the construction of the Oroville-Quincy lateral through Feather River canyon and to obtain a judicial decree establishing the north fork of the Feather river as the route for the lateral. The highway commission has promised Plumas citizens an investigation of the north fork route.

The state purchasing agent reports but little change in the prices paid by the state for foodstuffs for the last three months of the year with those obtained for the quarter just ended. Prices for sugar and flour and some varieties of dried and canned fruits show a small decline, but the price level is about equalized by the increase in the prices of meats and provisions. The price of leather is practically the same; dry goods and fabrics show a slight decline.

The California Veternas' Welfare Board will meet this week and consider marketing the $10,000,000 in bonds which were voted at the last election. The state treasury will be reimbursed by $3,000,000 when the bonds are sold, which was a loan to the veterans' board by the 1921 legislature to aid ex-service men until bonds could be voted. The rate of interest on the bonds remains to be fixed by a finance board provided by the act.

A story has become current about the capitol building that the Fresno civic bodies have dreams of wresting the state capital from Sacramento and to that purpose a campaign is being organized for intensive effort. Topographical location, diversified interests and location along the main arteries of travel are among the vantage points to be urged upon the consideration of the voters when the opening barage is laid down.

The board of regents of the University of California, at their annual meeting, appointed Dr. Gilbert N. Lewis, professor of chemistry, to represent the academic senate at the inauguration of President W. W. Campbell on March 22. The regents, by unanimous vote, directed that the new mechanics building be called "Hesse Hall" as a mark to Professor Hesse's contributions to the development of mechanical engineering.

Walter D. Wagner of Merced becomes head of the corrective and charitable institutions of the state government, by executive appointment. Wagner, who is widely known, has been prominently identified with irrigation and agricultural projects in the San Joaquin valley. He is past president of the native sons and past grand chancellor of the K. of P.'s.

An attempt by Los Angeles real estate dealers to sub-divide a 10-acre plot of sand at the mouth of Newport harbor was stopped by Attorney General Webb. Harbor deepening operators had dumped sediment and sand at the point and the actions of the tides had washed it into a bar which the attorney general held to be the property of the state.

The city and county of San Francisco have paid to the state highway commission $250,000 for work done by the state on the first link of the peninsula boulevard, extending from the county line to San Mateo.

TEACHERS ENTERTAIN

Last Thursday evening a very delightful get-together reception was held in the kindergarten room of the C. U. G. S. by the teachers of last year for the new ones, the trustees and their wives and Mr. and Mrs. Ferro.

The success of the evening was due in large part to the careful planning of the committee, Miss Lear, Miss Thorne and Miss Naylor, who arranged both the program and the delicious luncheon which was served in the cafeteria.

Mr. Cuthbertson talked very interestingly on "Observations on Teachers," and Miss Dow gave a delightful reading.

Other pleasant numbers were short talks by Geo. Husted and C. E. DeSelle on behalf of the trustees and by J. T. Allen, vice-principal, and a piano duet by Miss Mace and Mrs. Keesling.

All present report an exceptionally good time and feel that truly friendly relationships have been established among them.

MORELAND CLUB PICNIC AT MORGAN HILL

The Moreland Good Will Club held its yearly meeting with its Morgan Hill member, Mrs. Mark Smith, on October 10, a picnic lunch being served at noon. It was with pleasure we had among our number one gentleman, who was so wise as to bring his wife. We felt honored to have him serve us at table, the host being prevented from sharing the honor on account of work upon another ranch.

In the afternoon the meeting was called to order by its president, Mrs. Earl. The secretary was absent on account of illness and Mrs. Earl appointed Mrs. Zettle secretary pro tem.

The program consisted of a brief reading, "The Geography of Japan", by Walter Westin, in the July 1921 National Geographic. Mrs. Anderson gave a sketch of the life of Lafcadio Hearn after which her mother, Mrs. Godin, read, "In Yokohama," by Hearn.

Adjourned to meet with Mrs. Bean, October 24.

HAYES-ORTMAN

In far away China, the city of Tien Tsin, on Friday, Oct. 12, Miss Ruth Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Hayes of Campbell, became the bride of Philip T. Ortman. The wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. Brown, a mutual friend .

Mr. Ortman's American home is at Redding, Pa., and he is a graduate of Yale. He is with the American Express Company at Tien Tsin.

Miss Hayes was a Campbell girl, a graduate of the C. U. H. S. and for a few years a successful teacher in Oakland . Something over two years ago she accompanied her brother, Jesse, on his return to China, where she later engaged in office work. Miss Hayes was a very charming girl with a host of friends in California and has undoubtedly made many more in her foreign home.

The young people are extened every good wish for their happiness and prosperity.

There was no meeting of the C. E. societies last Sunday as the Endeavorers in small groups visited several of the other societies of the district in the interest of the convention to be held here Friday to Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lea entertained a group of friends Saturday evening at a jolly party at their home on North First street. The approaching Hallowe'en was made the motif of decorations and favors.

AIRSHIPS AND HIGHWAYS

"What's the use of building great highway systems, at an expense of millions and millions of dollars, when in a few short years all the freight and passenger traffic will be carried in the air?"

The question is always being asked by some one, usually some one who is endowed by nature with faculty of thinking straight, but sometimes by those who think, but without data on which to go.

The next ten, or the next hundred years, will see enormous strides made in aviation. Mail, some express, some passenger traffic will go via plane, and much sport and travel will use it. But no future development of aeronautics can overcome the fundamental fact of nature, that to raise a weight in the air and maintain it there, requires power, and that power is an equivalent for value; in our terms money.

Therefore, no matter how desirable otherwise, no system of transportation which requires an expenditure to support a weight, can compete in cheapness with those in which the weight is borne by the earth.

There will always be railroads, always be vessels on the water, always be roads and road vehicles. They will change, improve, become more economical, more speedy, more safe, but the earth will continue to carry the bulk of the traffic, simply and solely because it doesn't charge anything for holding up the weight, whereas nature makes us pay, and heavily, to hold the weight up in the air, while we transport it.

Those who build roads to-day will not live to see the time when their roads are not used. Those who bond themselves for roads today will never see the day when those bonds are outstanding against disused highways. The airways will be increasingly used, but not for freight!

COOPERATIVE REFORESTATION

The great movement for national reforestation inaugurated by uniting private interests, state forestry bureaus, and federal forest service, is one of the greatest national constructive programs ever launched and should have the thoughtful consideration of all who are interested in the future national welfare.

The United States uses more wood than any other country—two-fifths of the entire consumption of the world, r about 22½ billion cubic feet.

The per capita consumption of this country is 212 cubic feet, of which 110 cubic feet, or a little more than half is saw timber, and the balance consists of cordwood.

Including the losses by fire, insects, and disease, the total drain on the country's forests is close to 25 billion feet. At the present time this country is growing only about 6 billion cubic feet.

However, if the entire forest area of the country—some 470,000,000,000 acres—were placed under intensive forestry, about 27 billion cubic feet of timber could ultimatly be produced each year. The amount would exceed the present drain on our forests by a relatively small margin.

Another nice thing about being poor is that your friends don't insinuate that you are a liar when you say you haven't the ten dollars to spare.

These are stirring times. And you must keep stirring if you expect to have any time at all.

Attorney General Webb holds that if one man can adequately meet the requirements of two state positions he is entitled to the salaries of both, as in the case of Dr. H. R. Stolz, who is paid $3,200 a year as supervisor of physical education and $1,000 a year as medical adviser to the teachers' retirement board, the board of control to the contrary, notwithstanding.

California, with a death rate of 14.4 per 1,000 population, stands sixteenth in the list of states for the first quarter of this year.

Two Die In Brush Fire

Santa Paula.—A brush fire raging in the low hills just north of Santa Paula resulted in the deaths of two men. Frank C. Foster, 67, rancher, who was fighting the fire, was overcome by smoke and heat and died shortly after. The second victim, believed to be a ranger, was trapped by the flames in a small canyon near Fagan Canyon.

Tokyo.—The Aso volcano, near Kumanoto, which erupted in 1894, is again active.

Success in saving is kept constantly in mind by those who have our home banks. If you have none, get one today.

As Done in Italy

MACARONI is sold on the streets in Italy, much as popcorn and peanuts are sold here. W are told that Mr. Italian pauses by a macaroni vender, buys a portion, wraps the long slippery stems about his bared arm, raises his elbow on high, tips back his head, takes the ends of the stems in his mouth and lets the delectable food slide down. Inelegant! But apparently effective, since Italians are usually husky.

We'll not bother, however, to adopt the Italian method. We'll just learn to eat more macaroni, using onr customary table instruments.

Semolina is the distinctive name of a macaroni made from a superior variety of hard wheat. Such macaroni has a remarkably firm texture. Thorough cooking does not make it mushy. Then its food value is very high and its flavor very good, making it a dish you will want to serve frequently.

Semolina Long Macaroni—Semolina Salad Macaroni—Semolina Elbows. All 15c a pound.

Colorado Peas have the "edge." That's no reflection on peas from other sections. We'll put it this way: other peas are mighty good and Colorado peas are considerably better. Germany now has lots of money. A letter was received at the local postoffice bearing only six million marks in postage. It costs five cents to send a letter from here to Germany.

Mrs. Geo. Ray, of Tracy, and four friends of San Francisco were guests at the Mrs. Hattie Dunham home Sunday. Mrs Ray is a sister of Mrs. Donld Mc Queen and Mrs. Jack Scott.

Henry Rhud who came out from Bismarck, N. D. with C. T. Fawcett, went to San Francisco Sunday to attend the Legion Convention. Mr. Rhud was an officer in the construction department of the aerial division during the war.

It is not too early to begin preparations for Christmas. Mail for foreign countries must be sent several weeks in advance to insure its arrival and delivery at interior points. Late mails both rail and steam and terminal storage will all be over crowded.

Among the losers in the big warehouse fire in San Francisco last week was Stewart Smith, son of Mrs. Ellen R. Smith, whose implement business was destroyed. The immediate loss was nearly covered by insurance, but the disruption of business is one not provided for in insurance.

Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Stallman were called to San Francisco last Tuesday by the serious illness of his sister, Miss Emelia Stallman. Miss Stallman had been sick for some time but developed a sudden turn for the worse and passed away before her brother's arrival. Mr. and Mrs. Stallman returned Thursday after the services.

J. H. Neff, who has always had a beautiful flower garden, and cultivated a great variety of plants, has rented Dr. Cooper's garage, facing Central Avenue and will conduct a nursery business in addition to acting as mail messenger, which occupies only part of his time. Judging from his past experience this new enterprise should be a success, and people desiring ornamental plants and shrubs may find just what they wish at Campbell's new nursery.

W. C. T. U.

The M. E. church parlor was the setting of a pleasant and a profitable Mother's Meeting with the superintendent, Mrs. F. C. Farr, as hostess last Wednesday afternoon, held under the auspices of the W. C. T. U.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Wilson, the chair was occupied by the first vice president, Mrs. Whitman. Devotionals were led by Mrs. Farr, followed by the usual opening exercises. Reports of the rummage sale showed a neat sum gained and helped bring up to a creditable amount the annual budget. Much credit is due the faithful work of those who freely gave of time and effort to make the sale a success. Thanks are also due the friends who so generously contributed articles for sale.

In presenting her program, Mrs. Farr gave a little talk, ably setting forth the need of moral training of the young child, firmly implanting in his mind the lessons of total abstinence and purity. Appropriate selections were read by Mesdames Farr, Parkhill, and Newcomb, closing with an exquisite poem,—"Mother-look and Mother-love," by Mrs. Guy Farley, whose little sons, Phillip and Thomas, had been made white ribbon recruits. Prayer and the singing of "Jewels" concluded the program. During the social hour the hostess and her small daughter generously served home-made candies to the evident enjoyment of all. Adjourned to meet October 24, with Mrs. Ben Austin.

FAMILY MOVES SOUTH

O. F. Hurst and family left Tuesday for Whittier where they will make their future home. Mr. Hurst, who recently conducted an extensive milk route service will take charge of a large dairy, which has a herd of 1200 cows.

Mr. Hurst stated that in his recent trip thru the south he had not found a place to compare with Campbell for an ideal home town and he was sorry that his business took him away from here.

The family have made fine citizens and neighbors and we are sorry to see themlea ve but extend best wishes.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS SITUATION IS SERIOUS

State Board of Health Official Issue Special Precautionary Instructions to Curb Spread.—Los Angeles County Hit.

Sacramento.—Officials of the state board of health are becoming deeply concerned over the situation in the southern part of the state with regard to polyiomelitis, commonly known as infantile paralysis.

Twenty-two new cases of the disease, mostly in Los Angeles county, have been reported to the board during the past week, increasing the number of cases to a point where there is danger of a serious epidemic.

In some localities the situation is already acute, and special instructions regarding preventive measures have been prepared for the benefit of health officers and parents.

Regarding these precautions, Guy P. Jones, director of public health information for the board said:

"It is of the greatest importance that every effort be made for determining the nature of all cases of illness in children in every locality where polyiomelitis is being reported. Since the onset of the disease is associated with a variety of symptoms, it is essential that all cases of illness in those communities where polyiomelitis is prevalent be subjected to careful diagnosis."

Instructions to parents where there is an outbreak of the disease include the following:

Do not let them play with any child or adult who is not entirely well.

Keep sick persons who do not belong in your family out of your house.

Make sure that hands are thoroughly washed before eating.

Cases of the disease reported last week are classified as follows:

Los Angeles city, 8; Los Angeles county, 7; Long Beach, 1; Huntington Park, 1; Orange county, 1; Dunsmuir, 1; Upland, 1, and Sacramento, 2.

Don't Let a Low Price Keep You From Using The Best

We do not have to pay long-haul transportation and high merchandising costs to make Zerolene available. All that you spend for Zerolene goes to buy high quality only.

Zerolene forms less carbon than any other motor oil known to us. As a result, the Zerolene-lubricated car may be driven from 25% to 50% farther without having the valves ground or the cylinders rebored.

Because Zerolene gives better lubrication continuously, it reduces wear to a minimum and permits the delivery of more engine power to the wheels on the ground, giving you more mileage from your gasoline.

Insist on Zerolene—even if it does cost less.
